Our Piemonte and Valle d'Aosta tour offers stunning lakes, unspoiled mountains, authentic cuisine, and a deep dive into a fascinating chapter of Italian history shaped by powerful rulers. This journey is a perfect introduction to a less-travelled part of Italy, far from the usual tourist routes of the 'Grand Tour.'

This tour is ideal for those who appreciate a sophisticated wine and food culture, elegant cities, and breathtaking natural landscapes. We'll begin by exploring Turin, the capital of Piemonte and the historic seat of the Savoy family, who became Italy's royal family. With its regal architecture and rich history, Turin was also the first capital of a unified Italy. From there, we'll venture into the Langhe, a region steeped in centuries-old agricultural traditions and renowned for its Barolo and Barbaresco wines, and then on to the untamed beauty of the Valle d'Aosta before concluding with a stay in a chic lakeside town.

To ensure a relaxed pace, we'll be staying in just four hotels over the 15 days. This allows you to fully enjoy your surroundings without the hassle of frequent packing and moving. Our bases for the tour include Turin (3 nights), the Langhe (3 nights), Aosta (4 nights) and Lake Maggiore (4 nights).

WEATHER

In October, Piemonte and Valle d'Aosta experience the crisp, refreshing onset of autumn, making it an ideal time for travel. Daytime temperatures in the region typically range from 16°C to 20°C, with cooler evenings, especially in the Alpine areas. While it's generally mild, occasional rain showers are possible, so it's wise to pack layers and a waterproof jacket. The cooler weather is perfect for exploring, with fewer tourists and the harvest season in full swing.

We don't place any age limits on our clients and welcome anyone with good physical fitness. Specifically, you should be comfortable on your feet for up to 3 hours, with short breaks, and confident on cobblestones and uneven surfaces.
